When I consider your heavens,
the work of your fingers,
the moon and the stars,
which you have set in place,
what is mankind that you are mindful of them,
human beings that you care for them?

Psalm 8:3-4

All good gifts around us

Last week I went to see the amazing dahlia display at Anglesey Abbey. As I stood there looking at them, a lady next to me said “this has to be the work of God”. It struck me afresh how creation is a display of God’s handiwork, and how it’s often a good way to start a conversation about faith. It’s also a constant reminder to me of God’s love and care.

As I write we’re in the middle of our harvest celebrations. Scripture tell us that God himself instructed the Jews to celebrate two harvest festivals, one at the start of the harvesting and one when it was “safely gathered in” (Exodus 23:16-17). So this time of gathering together in gratitude to God for all He has made and provided is really important. We are loved and cared for by almighty God, the maker of the universe. Hallelujah!
